

professional matters

Workshops for professionals who work with children, pre-teens, and adolescents

Jewish Family and Children's Service (JFCS) of Greater Philadelphia Presents:

Recognition and Reporting of Child Abuse Training

With the firing of Penn State University's head coach, president, and athletic director, many are confused as to what could have been done differently so that more children could have been protected.

The training, presented by Nancy Fagan, LCSW who has over 25 years of experience in child welfare, will identify:

Child Abuse; How to Understand and Recognize Types and Indicators of Abuse; Mandated versus Voluntary Reporting; Legal versus Ethical/Moral Obligation for Reporting; Procedures for Reporting Child Abuse; and Reporting of Student Abuse

JFCS has 157 years of experience in the field of child welfare, preventing abuse, and helping families cope with problems.

To host a training or for more information, contact Nancy Fagan at 267.256.2202 or NFagan@jfcshilly.org

866.JFCS.NOW

www.jfcshilly.org

info@jfcshilly.org